WHY CHOOSE THINKINGTHROUGH ACADEMY FOR ILM LEVEL 7

When choosing a provider for your ILM Level 7 Leadership and Management course, you need complete confidence in their expertise and quality. As a CPD and ILM-accredited provider since 2013, with highly qualified trainers and experts in the application of neuroscience to leadership, and continued tutor support, ThinkingThrough Academy offers the expertise and assurance senior leaders expect.

Practical, neuroscience-led approach

Our transformational courses stand head and shoulders above the competition through a unique, science-backed approach to leadership. Using neuroscience insights, we help you better understand yourself and those around you, making you more strategic, empathetic and informed.

ILM and CPD-accredited

We're accredited by ILM to deliver ILM courses, meaning you're guaranteed a recognised and respected qualification. We're also CPD accredited as an organisation, reinforcing our commitment to quality and professional development.

Expert tutors and leadership practitioners

Our trainers and course leaders hold amongst them some of the most prestigious and widely recognised qualifications in the application of neuroscience, leadership and management, training and mental health. You learn from the very best at ThinkingThrough Academy.

Dedicated tutor support

With a ThinkingThrough Academy ILM Level 7 course, you'll have access to one-to-one tutorials whenever you need them, alongside online Implementation Excellence study calls. Together, these provide structured support and practical guidance to help you apply your learning with confidence.

ThinkingThrough Academy transforms leaders into innovators who can shape the future of their organisations with effective leadership practices.

READY TO ELEVATE YOUR LEADERSHIP POTENTIAL AND STEP INTO MORE SENIOR MANAGEMENT ROLES?

As an ILM-accredited centre, ThinkingThrough Academy delivers the following esteemed ILM qualifications for management development:

- Level 7 Award in Strategic Leadership and Management
- Level 7 Certificate in Strategic Leadership and Management
- Level 7 Diploma in Strategic Leadership and Management
- Level 7 Extended Diploma in Strategic Leadership and Management

Each type of qualification represents the number of units you'll complete; ILM Level 7 certificates and awards require fewer units than diplomas, while the extended diploma is the most comprehensive of all of our ILM Level 7 qualifications.

The course helped me unlock leadership potential I didn't know I had. ThinkingThrough gave me tailored, practical strategies – and the results were transformative.

COURSE CONTENT

Our ILM-accredited leadership and management qualifications are designed to take your role as a leader to stratospheric new levels, strengthening key skills that set apart senior executives from lower-level managers.

Modules include:

Advanced people and performance management

To manage people effectively, you need to understand both their wants and needs in the workplace. We'll help you understand how the brain needs consistency, clarity and rewards and how this relates to people management – but also how you can use novelty and reflection to get the most out of your teams.

Embedding a Culture of Developmental Leadership

To explore the personal and professional practices, underpinned by coaching and mentoring, in supporting developmental leadership which embeds a diverse, equitable and inclusive culture.

Developing Strategic Leadership and Management Capability

To develop the cognitive and behavioural skills necessary to undertake a strategic investigation into senior leadership and management in a given context by utilising strategic leadership and management approaches.

Supporting a Culture of Innovation through Change

To enable learners to support a culture of innovation and collaborative working culture through the development of a growth mindset. The learner will explore key principles and practices of leading organisational change through the evaluation of personal and organisational readiness.

Progressive discourse in modern leadership

To give an understanding of the theories and models which underpin current leadership and management thinking, considering the future of leadership. The unit also explores the concepts of own leadership identity and personal leadership brand and their relevance to building a culture of diversity, inclusion and innovation.

Project management and strategic planning

As a senior leader, you'll be required to lead on a range of projects, from business-wide initiatives to departmental change. Through these courses, you'll develop the skills to produce business cases, plan out strategic projects, see them to completion and critically evaluate their success.

HOW WE DELIVER OUR ILM LEVEL 7

Our ILM level 7 qualifications are delivered fully online through a mix of learning resources, one-to-one sessions with your tutor and live discussions with your cohort. We also use our unique neuroscience-informed method of delivery to ensure you get the most out of your time with us.

The PEEC method

As experts in how to apply the learning from neuroscience to leadership, we know how best to deliver learning that resonates, sticks and can be put into practice.

We use our neuroscience expertise to use the unique learning delivery system, developed by Neurocapability - a system that works with your brain.

Prime

Our brain needs the right environment to learn effectively; we can guide you on preparing your brain for learning, from your physical environment to your nutrition.

Embed

The brain loves repetition, so you'll have access to your course materials upon completion, plus you'll have the chance to share your experience with others, which helps you dig deeper into your learning.

Encode

To focus your attention and ensure your learning is meaningful, we'll ask reflective questions throughout, allowing you to relate your learning to your experience.

Consolidate

The final step ensures what you learn becomes hard-wired in your brain, which we do through our membership to The Tribe, our community resource where you can share your continued learning with fellow leaders.

BENEFITS

Combining advanced leadership tools and leadership theory with neuroscience-backed insights, our course equips you to handle senior management responsibilities with confidence and expertise.

Recognition by employers

ILM is the most recognised and respected provider of leadership and management qualifications, meaning it's a trusted seal of approval on your skills and abilities.

Real-world strategic impact

These post-graduate-equivalent qualifications focus on the real-world implementation of leadership and management skills instead of a theory-only approach.

Career progression and senior leadership roles

By completing a ILM level 7 qualification in leadership and management, you can move up into roles including:

- Senior manager
- Head of department
- Director
- Executive leader

Importantly, you'll learn about different leadership styles and discover your own style as a leader.

Direct access to expert tutors

You'll receive dedicated 1:1 tutorials with your tutor, alongside Implementation Excellence calls with fellow learners to explore how your learning is applied in practice.

Online learning platform

Our dedicated online learning platform contains all of the learning materials you need for success on your course, including:

- Video tutorials and sessions
- Downloadable reading resources to enhance your learning
- Questions and suggestions to encourage you to interrogate your materials
